Note: LFS counts are in terms of households while Adult Education and Training Survey counts are in terms of selected individuals within households (only one individual is selected per household). The Adult Education and Training Survey response rate is based on eligible LFS household records. These exclude households without individuals aged 25 and over and also exclude households where no household member was selected intentionally (households with only people aged 65 and over who were not selected).

* LFS response rate is the number of LFS responding households as a percentage of the number of LFS selected households.
