DEFINITIONS

When exact information is not readily available from your records, please provide your best estimates. The following guide items are provided for questions requiring further clarification.

Film, Video and Audio-Visual Distributors are businesses or persons acting as the middleman in the film and video industry between producers and exhibitors. These businesses or persons obtain rights (geographic or territorial rights) to films, manufacture videocassettes through duplication and packaging, promote and market films, arrange for their exhibition and collect and disburse revenues to any profit participants.

Videocassette Wholesalers are engaged in the wholesale distribution of videocassettes to retail outlets that in turn rent or sell to the general public. Videocassette wholesalers normally purchase packaged cassettes from distributors and re-sell to video retailers. Wholesalers do not buy rights to films.
