

2026 CENSUS OF POPULATION

What is the census?

- Every five years, the census counts everyone living in Canada.
- Census questions are available in 15 Indigenous languages, and accessible formats.
- The 2026 Census is now taking place across the country.

You can complete your census online at census.gc.ca

Why is it important for you to participate?

With census data, Indigenous communities, organizations and businesses can use important information and facts about population growth, languages spoken, education levels and much more to help in decision-making.

Three key findings – Population Growth, Languages Spoken, and Education Levels

The 2021 Census counted 1.8 million Indigenous people, or 5.0% of the total population in Canada.

Source: Statistics Canada, Census of Population, 2021.

There are many census subdivisions in Canada with at least 100 residents who speak an Indigenous language well enough to conduct a conversation.

Indigenous language distribution across Canada

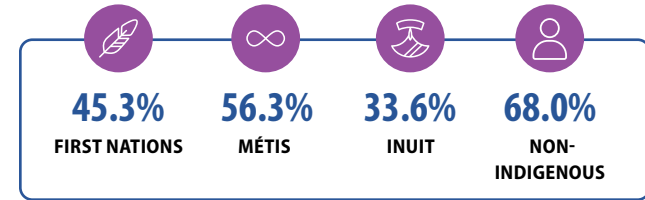

- Algonquian languages
- Athabaskan languages
- Inuktitut (Inuit) languages
- Iroquoian languages
- Salish languages
- Siouan languages
- Tsimshian languages
- Wakashan languages
- Isolates and other Indigenous languages

Source: Statistics Canada, Census of Population, 2021.

In 2021, a smaller proportion of Indigenous adults held postsecondary qualifications compared to non-Indigenous adults, in part due to barriers such as geographical remoteness – particularly among Inuit.

Postsecondary qualification (including certificate, diploma or degree) among Indigenous people aged 25 to 64, by Indigenous identity, 2021

Source: Statistics Canada, Census of Population, 2021.

We thank you in advance for your participation in the 2026 Census.

Mesê cho nyá:wəh Mēduh Meegwetch suchanailya kinanâskomitin
 Wela'lin Máhsi' cho 'anátzaxw nóg'uúla Mussi Tsin'ij choh
 Marsi tchógh gíáxsixa ᓂᓄᓄᓄᓄᓄᓄ Shāw nithān Gūnēchish
 Mikwētc Thank you Máhsi Qujannamiik Tchinishkumitin
 Sechanalyagh Máhsin cho Merci Sógá sēnlá' masicho isni'yes
 Miigwetch Marsee Háw'aa Siyisgaas Mási cho Hau Pidamayaye
 Maarsii gilakas'la Gunalchish HÍSWŪE ʔimot 'oyaxsii' 'niin
 Hoy chexw Tiniki Hiy Hiy / Ay-hay Wela'liog Misiyh Miikwehch
 Tshinashkumitin Miigwech Nakurmiik T'oyaxsut 'nūūsm
 Mikwéc mikwéc Nitsiniyi'taki Hu sukítqukni. Niá:wen kwuk'wstéyp yaw^ko Woliwon imlēt Wuujo aasanaláa? Huy chexw a Kukwtsétselp ish nish ʔuusyay šiliiʔic Kukwstumckálap
 Ho Pidamayado Dégharé marsi nénesdhen

Your data are confidential

Statistics Canada places the highest importance on protecting the confidentiality of your personal information. The Statistics Act specifically requires that information about individuals be protected and kept strictly confidential. For more information, please visit www.census.gc.ca.