

ADMINISTRATIVE DATA: why it matters to you

Statistics Canada obtains administrative data from government agencies and the private sector. These data are essential to produce official and accurate statistics on:

FINANCES

Help to determine the Consumer Price Index (CPI). The CPI influences Canadians through pensions, wages, contract escalation and support allowances.

HOUSING

Provide information on how housing programs can be improved to offer more affordable housing to Canadians.

HEALTH AND WELL-BEING

Help to identify emerging and known safety hazards, decreasing preventable deaths among Canadians.

INFRASTRUCTURE

Complement survey data to determine if Canadian communities require more schools, daycare centres, public transportation and much more.

BY LAW, YOUR GUARANTEE

CONFIDENTIAL

Your privacy and confidentiality is assured.
